Advance your Career

Become a leader in the California Community College System

- Learn to navigate the regulatory waters (Ed. Code, Title 5, and the Chancellor's Office)
- Become accreditation savvy; understand the political implications
- Get inside the state budget process (Prop. 98 and SB 361)
- Take action on the Student Success Initiative
- Develop leadership skills to guide program development, implementation, and outcome measurement

This certificate program is designed to prepare and enhance the leadership skills of administrators, staff, and faculty in the California community colleges. It offers a focused approach to leadership preparation through an application-based, in-depth curriculum specifically created to develop skills for increasing daily, operational effectiveness. Students will build a theoretical knowledge base as well as strategies that will assist them in addressing the demands and issues they will most likely encounter as leaders in the California community college system. This program offers graduate-level study while earning credit from Claremont Graduate University. Both degree-seeking and non-degree seeking students may apply, and the certificate can be completed in three semesters.
