Community, Continuing & Corporate Education

Cañada College - College of San Mateo - Skyline College

Community Education was established in the California Community College system for the specific purpose of offering additional educational opportunities to members of the local community other than for-credit instruction.

Building robust and effective Community Services Education programs created the opportunity for colleges to address the needs of all members of a community through credit, non-credit and not for credit instruction.

The workshop drove home key concepts, provided active coaching, and leveraged creative reinforcement techniques that helped my staff internalize what they've learned. Exercises were built off real-life experiences that my team could easily relate-to. They were able to apply what they have learned immediately in their day to day interactions upon completion of the workshop. It's rare to see such improvements so quickly. Kudo's to the CCCE team!

CALVIN'S SUCCESS STORY: From SVIEP to BUSINESS MAJOR at COLLEGE OF SAN MATEO

"I had valuable experiences during the SVIEP program. All my professors and the coordinator are amazing and helpful to students. They are happy to help students in any circumstances to achieve their goals. In my personal experience, taking the SVIEP program before applying to college or university is very essential to improve your confidence and they [SVIEP] will motivate students and push you to develop strong communication skills. If you want to prepare your English skills before applying to university and college, this is the right place for you!"
